

Robot Maths - Proportion problems

5 chocolate muffins need 80g of chocolate chips.
How many grams of chocolate chips do you need for 12 muffins?

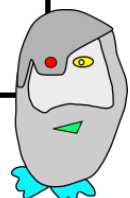

Divide the amount of chocolate chips by the number of muffins

Multiply the answer by the number of muffins you want

Make your final answer clear using a written sentence

Robot Maths - Proportion problems

Divide the amount of _____ by the number of _____

Multiply the answer by the number of _____ you want to find out

Make your final answer clear using a written sentence

